Name of the Course: Mathematical Reasoning for Competitive Examinations

Department of Mathematics & Statistics, Golaghat Commerce College

A SUMMARY REPORT

Notification

The program provides our students a platform to understand mathematical reasoning and prepares them for various competitive examinations. Reasoning skills help students in improving their decision making abilities, problem solving, and setting goals. In most of the companies and competitive exams, logical reasoning is highly essential. The aim of this course was to make the students understand the fundamental logical reasoning and help them to prepare for competitive examinations.

The classes are conducted in the college on three-week days. Total number of hours is 30 hours. Like every year, this year also the department started the enrolment process from November '2023'. Classes started in the month of January '2024' and successfully completed the course in March '2024'. A total number of 43 students enrolled in the course. Dr. Karabi devi was the course coordinator and the classes were taken by other faculty members as scheduled in the class routine. After completion of the course there was a written examination. Certificates were distributed on 24th September, 2024. The Add-on course will be continued in the upcoming sessions too with equal dedication.
